

Sam30 trading weekly story.

Just a little story for me....this week.

Instead of trading and post some post every day i decide to post and record in silence....its in real account and not in demo.

This is just for sharing experience only and not to intend anything or something, as my trading is only between me and market (so the only enemy is myself).

My record :

How many days i needed to blow and call for margin call ? just one day!!

How many day i needed to double or triple my account? My best record is 4 days to make it double .

So statistically the market is control the move...even for your best planning* (i will show you later)

Here is a bit of prove for what i mean , about double or triple the account with high leverage.

This is day one. This week Tuesday28/07/2015

Day 02 29/07/2015

Day 03

Day 04 .Today.

About trading plan:

I was plan to long on AUDUSD.

Here is the plan.....i just suspect rednews @ asia session will makea huge move....

And here is what happen then (with what i say how market control the movement)

As the conclusion:

For me trading just like chess game...sometimes you be the white and sometimes you be the black....like the picture below

Happy weekend all.
