

Hello Traders,

I know I have brought this up on a couple of occasions regarding the trade plan. There is a template Dana has provided for all of us, the same one I use. I believe that for the most part all plans should look very similar, as all your doing is writing down what you see on your charts. depending on which session your trading, being the only difference. This will more than likely be Sydney, or London.

I also believe in the K.I.S.S. or (Keep it simple stupid) theory. Keep it short, simple, and to the point. It can be challenging reading some plans, as there seems to be too much information in some, and not enough in others. I have become quite lost in some and just stopped reading them! Sometimes less is more.

I do realize we all do things a little differently and plans are not going to be identical, and they shouldn't be. But, they should be very similar, in the sense that we should all be saying the same thing but, perhaps a little differently. With that said I think it would be beneficial to all if we were all on the same page and following along with the same outline, with regards to the following.

Final Notes:

Adjustments:

Long: or Short:

Result: or Evaluation:

Final Notes: This should be your summary of what you see on each chart. Followed by what the market is doing in general. Then stating your direction in which you will be trading. Ending in what level of support or resistance you will be looking for.

Example: H1, down. H2, down. Daily up. H2, H4, and Daily ROMAR trends up. Daily, Horsemen, PSAR trends have the power for the up. Market is in a consolidated down trend. Based on the Daily chart, I will be going long off H2 support. Looking for a DB/ SAR hit off ROMAR.

I always state in my Final Notes: I will enter long or short position off H2 support or resistance, as a reminder to myself to stick to my plan, and execute a stated long or short. This can be adjusted, as the market is fluid. You have seen Shaun and myself make entries off the H4 and Daily charts. That is why you have the Adjustments: field.

Long: or Short:

Once you've completed your final notes, you should have determined trend, as well as which direction you will be trading. I always change this to Long: or Short: and leave it blank until I enter a trade. I have already determined which direction I will be trading. I'm not guessing, if the market does this I'll go short, if the market does that I'll go long. That's the whole point of having a plan, knowing what you're going to do with some thought put into it. With confidence and conviction.

Example:

Long: Entered long off H2 open candle at Smooth support. Set TP+40 SL40. (Then walk away, or back to to sleep).

Adjustments: Result: Evaluation: are self, explanatory.

I apologize for the long post. I just felt it was important to get on the same page and make it a little easier to review trades.

Hello Traders,

I took the same trade as Ant. I use the H4 as a reference, but don't really mention it unless it has an impact on my trade. This time it was a major factor. Here is my plan with screen shot. Trade was executed on my lap top, bar count and FIBO are incorrect.

Session: Sydney EUR-JPY 2/7/2018

Daily: New week open candle 60 pips below ROMAR.

ROMAR: Support
EMA: Support
Parabolic: Resistance

Notes: Purple crossed White and Smooth down. PSAR flipped for the down. Trend EMA arrow down. MACD zero cross arrow down. FIBO down.

H2

ROMAR: Resistance
EMA: Resistance
Parabolic: Eliminated
Notes: Purple crossed White up. EMA holding resistance. DB down with Blue Divergence attach at 0.0 FIBO. SAR attach above EMA. Trend EMA arrow up. MACD zero cross arrow up. FIBO up.

H1

ROMAR: Resistance
EMA: Support
Parabolic: Support

Notes: Purple crossed White, Smooth, and EMA up.

Final Notes: H1, turning up with ROMAR trend down. H2, turning up with ROMAR, PSAR, and EMA trends down. H4, in strong down trend. Daily down with market below ROMAR. Market is in a consolidated down trend. H2, and H4 trends are down. I will enter short position off H2 resistance. Looking for SAR hit at PSAR.

Adjustments: SAR hit at H2 PSAR 06:00 candle.

Short: Entered short position on H2 06:00 candle SAR attach at PSAR after slight retrace. Set TP +40 SL 40.

Result: Took +40 from the market.

Best Regards,

Chad

Hello Traders,

Here is last nights trade. I believe there are some other traders that took this trade. This plan may lend a little different perspective. Trade executed on my trade station, screen shot is from lap top. Bar count and FIBO are incorrect.

Session: Sydney EUR-JPY 2/4/2018

Daily: New week open candle 50 pips above Purple.

ROMAR: Support
EMA: Support
Parabolic: Support

Notes: Horsemen up. DB / SAR up with Magenta Divergence attach at 0.0 FIBO. Trend EMA arrow up. MACD zero cross arrow up. FIBO down.

H2

ROMAR: Support
EMA: Support
Parabolic: Eliminated

Notes: Purple crossed White and Smooth down. EMA holding support. DB / SAR up with Magenta and Green Divergence attach at 0.0 FIBO. MACD zero cross arrow down. Trend EMA arrow down. FIBO down. Lower BB inside FIBO.

H1

ROMAR: Support
EMA: Support
Parabolic: Eliminated

Notes: Purple crossed White and Smooth down.

Final Notes: H1, and H2 turning down. Daily up. Market is in consolidation. I will enter short position after H2 EMA / Purple cross, open candle at Purple, or retrace to Purple resistance. H2 Lower BB is inside FIBO as a target for the market.

Adjustments: H2 EMA crossed Purple with PSAR flip for the down.

Short: Entered short position on H2 04:00 candle retrace to Purple resistance. Set TP +40 SL 40.

Result: Took +40 from the market.

Hello Traders,

Here is last night's trade, with plan and screen shot. Again, executed on my lap top, bar count and FIBO are incorrect. This is one I was watching closely before the high impact new release as well as it being Friday. With that said I wasn't too worried about the trade going south as the Paradox was saying the market would continue north. Hope everyone has a weekend!

Session: Sydney EUR-JPY 2/1/2018

Daily: Open 8 pips below 0.0 FIBO.

ROMAR: Support
EMA: Support
Parabolic: Support

Notes: EMA crossed Purple for the up. DB / SAR up with Magenta Divergence attach at 0.0 FIBO. Trend EMA arrow up. MACD zero cross arrow up. FIBO down.

H2

ROMAR: Support
EMA: Support
Parabolic: Support

Notes: Horsemen up. DB / SAR up with Magenta and Green Divergence attach at 0.0 FIBO. Trend EMA arrow up. MACD zero cross arrow up. FIBO down.

H1

ROMAR: Support

EMA: Support

Parabolic: Support

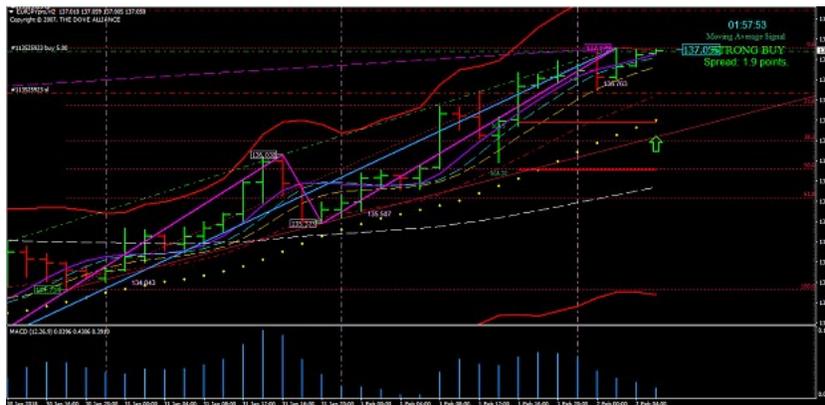

Notes: Horsemen up.

Final Notes: H1, H2, and Daily in sync with up trend. Daily is way out of balance with Purple. Market is in full up trend. I will enter long position off support.

Adjustments:

Long: Entered long position on H2 06:00 open candle at Purple support.

Result: Took +40 from the market.

Hello traders,

I hope you are all well. So my plan was just lost as I was posting. My screen shot was before I set TP and SL, never done that before! Trade was executed on my lap top, bar count and FIBO are incorrect Pulled the trigger after waiting a short time for the market to find support. Then went to sleep.

Also, I'm sure I don't take nearly as many trades as you Shaun. However, as a full time trader that's an incredible win rate my friend.

Trading is no longer my primary source of income. So, I can afford to be very selective in my trades. When trading the Paradox and following all of Dana's rules the results are as desired.

Trade: Entered long position on H2 06:00 slight retrace to Purple / Smooth support, with confluence at H4 Purple support. Set TP +40 SL 40.

Result: Took +40 from the market.

Hello Traders,

Here is last nights trade. Pulled the trigger then went to sleep, woke up to +40. The market went against me for about 15 pips. My SL was not going to be hit as I had PSAR and ROMAR back stopping my trade. Here is my plan with screen shot. Trade executed on my lap top, bar spread and FIBO are incorrect.

Session: Sydney EUR-JPY 1/28/2018

Daily: Open 30 pips below Purple.

ROMAR: Support
 EMA: Resistance
 Parabolic: Resistance

Notes: Horsemen down. SAR down with Gold Divergence attach 20 pips above 50.0 FIBO. Trend EMA arrow up. MACD zero cross arrow down. FIBO down.

H2

ROMAR: Resistance
 EMA: Resistance
 Parabolic: Eliminated

Notes: Horsemen down. Purple crossed White up. EMA holding resistance. DB down with Blue Divergence attach at 0.0 FIBO. Lower BB pierced. Trend EMA arrow down. MACD zero cross arrow down. FIBO up.

H1

ROMAR: Resistance
 EMA: Resistance
 Parabolic: Support

Notes: Purple crossed White, Smooth up. EMA holding resistance.

Final Notes: H1, in tight consolidation ROMAR trend down. H2, and Daily in sync with down trend. Market is in a consolidated down trend. H2 lower BB pierced. I will enter short position off H2 resistance. I expect the market to go in a tight consolidated ranging, with no major news releases scheduled. I'll be patient and wait for a retrace to EMA or take a pass and wait for tomorrow.

Adjustments:

Short: Entered short position on H2 06:00 mid candle retrace to EMA resistance. Set TP +40 SL 40.

Result: Took +40 from the market.

Hello Ty,

It's my pleasure to help. I'm not getting a sense of arrogance. You seem humble and willing to learn. You're off to good start attitude wise. It takes courage to post a plan for the whole world to see. The attack of the invisibles seems to happen when a pre trade plan gets posted. As there are a great number of traders looking for a free ride and boost their live accounts. They have no idea who is posting pre trade or post trade.

Shaun, Andy, Tom, Nikki, or Ant will post a plan with a screen shot and make it look very easier, with a bread and butter trade. Then again, attack of the invisibles. Then someone will come out from nowhere thinking they understand, throw a plan together and post. That's when you can tell who's read and studied and who has not.

You will see familiar traders leave and come back because there was a tough period of consolidation or ranging they don't understand and give up. That is the hardest part in the beginning. Traders are unsure, hesitate and don't know what to do. The smart thing when you trade live and unsure is to not trade. If it's not a 100% I'm going to win, don't trade, wait for another set up.

I think most traders get caught up with, I need +40 a day. The truth is, unless you can stay awake 24 hours a day, you're not always going to be there in the moment as it very often happens while your sleeping.

When you're learning is the best time to post a plan and take a shot at it. Your plan is for you and you alone. However, there will more than likely be other traders posting at similar times, and that's good also, as they should be very similar. I'm sure it's easier for Dana to teach a group taking the same trade. If it wins he will say why. If it loses he will say why and point out mistakes in trade plans. If there are no posted plans, there will be no feed back and you will not learn.

So, have the courage to do it for yourself. Who cares what others may think. Put some thought into it without going overboard and trying to be too analytical. I think some traders can get lost in their own plans and over think it. Keep it simple use the Adjustments: only when you need to. Do it with confidence and conviction. Start on demo, if your trying to learn on a live account you will fail, get very frustrated, and more than likely quit.

This is meant to encourage you to start your journey in becoming a professional trader. This is a teaching and learning thread. We, want you to succeed and we help each other!

Adjustments:

Long: Entered long position on new Daily open candle retrace to ROMAR. Set TP +40 SL40.

Result: Took +40 from the market.

I also use the H4. However, I only use it as a reference, as the H2 is your primary trade chart. The H2, H4, and Daily are the primary charts I use and, again as Dana has mentioned on numerous occasions the H1 is also used as a reference only.

I leave the H4 off my plan because, I like to keep it as simple as possible and only write down where the indicators are and what their doing. The H1, H2, and Daily really are all that is needed with regards to your plan.

If you're still learning and find it helpful to include the H4 on your plan then you should continue to do so!

Hello Dana, Shaun, and fellow traders,

I don't see any posted entries for today so, I thought I would share my plan and entry with EU. If you are new to the thread or still learning please continue to post with regards to the EJ only! I hope it helps any one who may be struggling.

Trade well,
